COMMENT OF

Sai Wan Memorial

flood of bright sunshine yesterday, we of the long and late past of Hongkong paused for a retrospective glance at the thunder of cannon and shot of 1941. It was a brief moment of remembrance and thanks at a haven of peace in memory of those valian, comrades who died in the defence of freedom and liberty, ideals shared strangers of many creeds and colours but all with a seif-appointed task, an instinctive desire to preserve a way of life, itself the struggle and accord plishment of a thousand long years.

HK-China Trade

OSTENSIBLY the ment by the Director of the China Export-Import Corporation relating to Hongkong-China trade is a piece of anti-American propaganda, carrying with it the broad inference that the Colony has allowed itself to be mused into appli-United the -Nations embargo by the blandishments of United States.

The jibe, being without foundation, can be ignored. Of more interest is Mr Teac's reference to future Hongkong-China : trading relations. He is reported to have declared that the Chinese Communisté have no intention of by-passing Hongkong, realising that the Colony-has facilities and knowledge that "could prove to be of immense commercial benefit."

If Mr Tsao is giving expression to official Peking policy, his statement is welcome. Communist China has it within her power to satisfy the United Nations that the .. necessity for trade embargo no longer exists, If and when that occurs, Hongkong will be happy to restore normal trading with the mainland according to according traditional methods.

One important difference is that you play a hand as safely as possible in rubber bridge, giving up some of your chance for overtricks in order to make sure of the contract.

hands, you have to play for all stantly, until thickened and possible tricks, even if this smooth, risks the contract for the sake of extra tricks. The difference is illustrated in the hand shown

West opens the seven of spades, East plays the ten, and South wins with the Jack, South counts one spade, four clubaand one heart. He therefore must develop the diamonds to make his contract.

At rubber bridge, South would do his best to develop the diamonds without allowing East to gain the lead. For this reason, he would cash the ace and king of diamond: instead of finessing. This play would drop the queen of diamonds, and South would then proceed to make the first 11 tricks.

Mind you, South wouldn't be expecting to drop the doubleton queen of diamonds. If the queen clan't happen to drop, he would |

MIKE CURZON THE STAR OF AN OTHERWISE UNEXCITING MEETING

By "RECORDER"

Colin Brand, of 8 Coy., RASC, Blackheath Harriers and the HKAAC, yesterday broke the Boundary Street ground record for the Javelin Throw with one effort of 188 feet 6 inches and two more over 170 feet, while Lt. Michael Sweeney, of 14 Field Regt. R.A., equalled Cpl. T. E. Williams ground record of 53.9 seconds for the 440 Yards Run.

In what was a very informal meeting, neither stole the show as Mike Curzon of the Hongkong Police and HKAAC closed 12 yards on Lt. Keith Burch of the 1st Battalion, The Essex Regiment, on the third leg of a One Mile Relay that had already been lost on a faulty exchange outside the area.

feet 21/2 inches, accomplished at meeting the day before. foot 21/2 inches, accomplished at Caroline Hill at last year's Colony Championships.

Lt. Sweeney did very well in the 440 Yards, running without any opposition of note as the only other two respectable Quarter Milers who elected run this distance were in the other 440 Yards race, Malcolm Marsh winning in a respectable 54.4 seconds for the Boundary Street track

In the One Mile Reluy there was a horrible out of the box exchange as Robert Marques alstopped dead and then barely held the baton after a first lap from an ill but hardtrying Stephen Xavier, Neither was actually completely at fault, but it was a terrible exchange

SURPRISINGLY FAST Taking over from a surprisingly fast Marques—he generally finds difficulty in running a fast 220 though he can do that if he tries-Mike Curzon closed on the South China runner about eight yards ahead of him on the first bend and caught up with Burch with about 160 10.5 secs. yards to go.

Perkins (1 Essex). last two bends, but by no stretch of the imagination could he have been slower than seconds for the complete 440 Yards circuit if not actually [1 Essex); 2. A. Colleco (HKAAC)] about half a second faster than that.

Malcolm Marsh just about held his ground with Lt. Sweeney on the last Quarter, but even the effort of closing was not really worth the while for an experienced runner with little hope of making it. Curzon had earlier won the Mile in his fastest ever time of 4 minutes 40.4 seconds, and it is about time he was convinced that he is no long distance star. Burch had earlier run in the 880 Yards, won in a moderatefor him-2 mins. 7.8 secs,—but the 880 was the first event of the meeting and Curzon had comparatively a much-shorter rest between his Mile and the Relay leg.

Robert Marques had earlier returned one of the very 10.2 efforts accomplished for the 100 Yards at Boundary Street in the "B" race, Xavier returning a good 10.5 in the "A" for a sprinter not even really fit to start. MOST SPECTACULAR

The most spectacular race today in Hongkong athletics is quite definitely the 440 Yards and there is no saying who will win at the next meeting of the GRANTHAM TRAINING COLLEGE HALL current "five star" field at the University Championships at Pokfulam on Saturday, March

Marsh is a doubtful starter as he may be called for rugger duty, but if Sweeney, Curzon, Burch and Xavier will be fit and on the ground it will be a greater thriller all the way than last time.

It was a great day for Roy Bell of 173 Loc. Bty., RA, and the HKAAC, who ran his fastest ever 440 Yards Hurdles in 63.4 first ever victory in the 120 Yards High Hurdles in 19.2 seconds in the "B" Grade race. Tony Collaco had a bad spill over the last hurdle in the "A" Grade High Hurdles, still finished second and come back for the 440 Hurdles later but would have been wiser to stay out with a swollen kneecap. He still managed to finish in 70 seconds flat. South China's Cheung Chek-yin, one of the few members of the Caroline Hill team who is really keen, finished in his best ever time of 03.9 seconds in Wils Pace. Bourgeois Parties Face A Bleak Future

Berlin, Feb. 20. The four East German "bourgeois" parties, firmly subordinated to the all-powerful Socialist Unity (Communist) party, are facing an increasingly bleak future.

The general elections last October ensured that they would continue to appear to play a part in Government. The head of each of the parties-Christian Democrats, National Democrats (nicknamed the "little Nazi party" because many former Nazis joined it), Liberal Democrats, and the Peasants—remains a member of the inner Cabinet and a deputy Prime Minister.

But although they are a ferred to the "leading role" of majority in the inner Cabinet-the Commun's s-a phrese too four to three—this is window- near the bone to be tolorared. dissing rather than proof of a coalition government representing varied interests. The Communists will rotain this representation as long as they feel unable to dragoon the whole country openly,

Party Fortunes Are Changing

Rome, Feb. 20. The most powerful Communist party outside the "Iron Curtain," after ten years of steady growth and unquestioning obedience to its Moscow-trained leader, Signor Palmiro Togliatti, is showing the first signs of internal upheaval.

Since 1943, when he returned from exile in Moscow, Signor Togliatti has built up the Italian Communist party to become the biggest political force in Italy after the Catholic Church.

It has grown up as a great party of revolutionwaiting for a revolution that never comes. At times in the past ten years Italy has seemed ready to fall into Communist hands.

were the signal for revolt. At a national conference of the party in Rome in January. a rebel group secretly circulated a manifesto demanding that the party be purged of 'bourgeois clements" and condemning Togliatti's "reformian Parliamentary illusions."

No hint was given of the identity of the rebels. But it was known that one of the top party men. Pletro Secchia, had often voiced similar views. It looked as though the rebels. were siming at enlisting him as their leader.

Togliatti acted quickly. Three days after the end of the conference, Secchia was deprived of his position as chief of the party's organisational machine. He was demoted to become regional party secretary in Lombardy province where, under a now order from Rome, he. like all regional secretaries, will be fishked by an emissary from the central executive. Secchia, now 51 years of age and known as the prety's tough man, spent most of his youth in Foscist prisons. Referred on the fall of Feschm, he became the commissar of the crack partisan Garibaldi Brigade, which operated in northern Italy behind the German lines.

After World War II. he was named one of the two vicesecretaries of the party, ranking immediately after Togliatti. The other was, and remains. Luigi Longo, the outstanding figure of the partisan war.

A lot of trouble might have | Americans too have taken to drinking more tea, in this case mitted sooner that he was mis- chiefly to offset the rise in the price of coffee.

But the biggest increase has taken place in producing countries themselves, where rising living standards have brought ten within the reach o. people who couldn't afford before the war. Indians example increased their consumption from 80 million lbs prewar to 180 million lbs. last

World production has manared to keep pace with this increase in demand but the balance is so fine that any a .normal market factor has an exaggerated effect on price. And uniortunalely there have been several abnormal factors in recent years.

LARGE STOCKS

The accumulation of large stocks of common teas—which form the basis of lower prices blends in preparation for derationing in Britain star ed a period of railing prices which forced many plantations suspend production.

Then in 1953 consumption began to rise-not only in Britain but throughout the world. Meanwhile other lactors were UTILITIES at work. The north Indian crop -largest in the world-fell short of expectations and floous delayed deliveries to docks.

The supply situation was further aggravated by dock strikes first in London then in Calcultta. And as always when prices are rising consumers besupply and demand and forcing

NOT BORNE OUT

Inevitably people began to look for scapegoats. Sir John Kotelawela placed the blame squarely on the dealers but facts didn't bear him out.

Far from buying tea in Ceylon at 3s to 4s a lb. as Sir John suggested dealers were at that moment paying around 5s. Nor was that all. For Ceylon has placed an export duty o 1s 11½ per lb. on tea and this has to be paid by the buyer.

So big profits aren't going to the dealer but to the producer and the Ceylon Government. In fact the dealer was making a loss. Including the cost of treight, insurance, warehousing and so on, it costs 7s 81/2d to get a lb. of tea from Ceylon to

But if the dealer was making a loss, distributors were making an even blgger one on paper. For they were retailing ten at an average of 7s 0d per ib, and it costs, they claim, about 1s 8d to get a tb. of tea from the suction room to the
